The new Bud Spencer single malt whisky in iconic movie look

In his last TV series, Carlo Pedersoli, alias Bud Spencer, experiences numerous adventures as a former inspector and passionate chef. In the course of these adventures, he is always in need of a good sip of whisky. The experienced master distillers at St. Kilian Distillers have created this whisky with the greatest care and attention to detail. The result is a heroic single malt whisky of the highest quality, which reflects the strength, resolution and warmth of Bud Spencer.

For the Bud Spencer special edition, the unpeated St. Kilian single malt spirit, which is made from the best barley malt and distilled twice in original Scottish pot stills, matured in the finest Oloroso sherry casks from Andalusia. The bottling impresses with a perfect balance of sweetness and fruitiness with spicy-warming nuances. Remarkable depth and complexity is given to this single malt whisky by characteristic sherry notes as well as the aromas of ripe fruit and spicy oak.

Bud Spencer Limited Edition now available

Like all other popular Bud Spencer and Terence Hill spirits, the Limited Edition is bottled in the iconic 0.7l bottle. The label in the iconic film look gives this fine whisky moreover visually that certain something. The single malt whisky is neither colored nor chill-filtered and was bottled with an alcohol content of 46 % vol. The special edition, which is limited to 600 bottles, is now available online from St. Kilian and in the store at the Distillery. The recommended retail price for the 0.7l bottle is € 59.90.
